

Media Release

01 April 2010

OTEK Announces 4th Annual SRR Conference: Sustainable Risk Rationalisation Conference 2010 – International Learning's Experience

The Strategic Risk Rationalisation Conference 2010 (SRR 2010) – International Learning's Experience is not your typical environmental convention talking about exhausted unresolved issues.

The SRR Conference has successfully developed over the past three years into one of the most important and unique Australian based conferences due to its hands-on and practical approach to risk rationalisation within the Brownfield's environmental arena.

If there is one conference that you or your organisation shouldn't miss, this is it.

The SRR 2010 will be assembling Australian, American and Asian industry leaders to discuss the various professional learnings experienced across a number of countries and disciplines.

The primary intention is to provide international insights into the mitigation of risk, through presentations and crucial networking opportunities, with a pertinent focus in a number of areas such as:

- Environmental Due Diligence and Regulatory Development
- Corporation
- Federal, State and Local Government
- Finance
- Infrastructure and Redevelopment
- Insurance
- Legal
- Innovative Building and Land Management
- Technical and Remediation.

The SRR 2010 runs from 2nd to the 3rd of September 2010 in Melbourne with a Welcome Cocktail Party preceding the first day (on the 1st of September 2010), of the SRR 2010 conference and complimented with a Conference Dinner and networking lunches.

For further information please visit the conference website www.srr-otek.com.au.

Media Contact:

Grant Scott – Director
OTEK Australia
+61 3 9525 5155